HOW YOU CAN HELP DEFEND CROP INSURANCE

OPPOSE cuts to the federal crop insurance program

With over 290 million acres and 130 different crops protected, crop insurance is a sound investment that helps ensure the production of a stable food, fiber, feed, and fuel supply.

Everyone in the supply chain, from farmers, lenders, and manufacturers to insurance and reinsurance providers and agents, agrees that crop insurance is the centerpiece of agricultural risk management and should not be cut.

Oppose cuts to crop insurance during the budget process, and support a budget that recognizes the importance of crop insurance and the key role that independent insurance agents play in the delivery of this vital program.
